Former Midwestern State Athletic Director Bob McBee passed away Friday at the age of 69, the university's sports information department confirmed Monday.

McBee was MSU's athletic director from 1997-2001. A former college baseball coach, he came to Wichita Falls in 1997 after working as the athletic director at Eastern Illinois for two years.

Before that, he served as athletic director at Robert Morris College for six years.

McBee served as head baseball coach at what was then Elon College from 1977-84, winning a pair of NAIA titles. He was also both a minor league baseball manager and administrator in the Appalachian, New York-Penn and South Atlantic leagues during several summers in the 1970s and 1980s.

Twenty-one of his players — including 1991 National League MVP Terry Pendleton — played in the major leagues.
