Hoyle Zellner Chancellor

February 9, 1926 - September 20, 2016

Hoyle Zellner Chancellor, 90, passed away Tuesday, September 20, 2016 surrounded by family at Capital Caring Hospice in Arlington, Virginia. He was born February 9, 1926 in Johnson City, Tennessee. He graduated from Science Hill High School. Upon his graduation day, he played his first professional baseball game for the Johnson City Cardinals. He was a devoted husband to his bride Mary Blanche Wilson and a loving father. He was a church member of McLean Baptist for over 50 years. He enjoyed hunting, travel trailer clubs, listening to opera, baseball and spending time with family. He is survived by his daughters Phyllis, Gwen (Ron) Adams and Lynn (David) Burgess; his grandchildren Daniel (Sarah) Burgess, Kristina Adams Hamilton, Steven (Samantha) Burgess, Phillip (Jennifer) Adams and Andrew (Jordan) Burgess. He was blessed with six great grandchildren; Brycen, Kylie, Camden, Mason, Pearson and Ryan. A special thank you to Sunrise and Powhatan staff for the years of care. The family will be greeting friends and relatives for the viewing on Friday, September 23, 2016 from 11:30 am-12:30 pm at McLean Baptist Church (1367 Chain Bridge Road McLean, VA 22101). The service will be held immediately following the viewing. The burial will follow at National Memorial Park (7482 Lee Highway Falls Church, VA 22042). In lieu of flowers, the memorial contributions may be made to Halquist Inpatient Center (Capital Caring Hospice), 4715 15th Street North, Arlington, VA 22205.
