Clifford Robert Ballou, 65, passed away on the evening of 29 May 2016 in Reno, Nevada. Born 1 November 1950,

Cliff was a long time Bay Area resident, and he played baseball for San Ramon High before he went on to play several years of Minor League Baseball. He attended trade school and became a Master Heat and Frost Insulator, work he took great pride in doing.

Throughout his life, Cliff also participated in theatrical productions. Often playing Tevya in Fiddler on the Roof, he won several awards for his powerful performances. Cliff will always be remembered as a man of many talents, who taught those around him to be strong no matter what, to never give up, to be themselves, and to always seize the day.

He is survived by his wife, one sister, four daughters, one son, and four grandchildren.
