

sports

Friday, January 26, 2018

BASEBALL

Major League Extender Julio Navarro Dies

He played in the majors during the sixties

Thursday, January 25, 2018 - 4:52 PM

By ELNUEVODIA.COM

Conoce lo que es un préstamo inteligente. Un proceso de solicitud rápido y conveniente.

Entérate aquí

The exlanzador Puerto Rican Julio Navarro died yesterday in the state of Florida.

Navarro, who was 82 years old, was an Alzheimer's patient. The death was confirmed in the social network Twitter by the writer and historian Jorge Colón Delgado, who described Navarro as "one of the best Puerto Rican pitchers of all time."

Born in Vieques, Navarro pitched in the majors between 1962 and 1970. He wore the uniforms of the California Angels, Detroit Tigers and Atlanta Braves. His most notable campaign was in 1963, when he pitched 90.1 innings with the Angels and finished with a 4-5 record, a 2.89 ERA and 12 saves. In his career, he appeared in 130 games with 212.1 innings pitched and a 7-9 record with a 3.65 ERA.

In winter baseball, according to data provided by Colón Delgado, Navarro played 22 years with Santurce, Caguas, San Juan and Bayamón. He had a lifetime record of 98-84, with 994 strikeouts and 2.94 ERA.

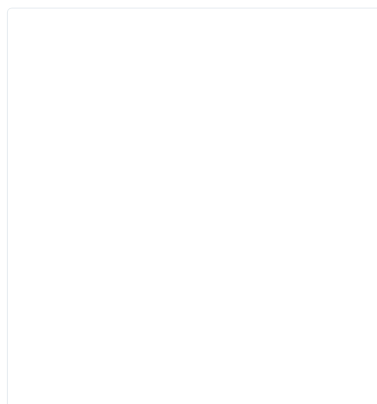

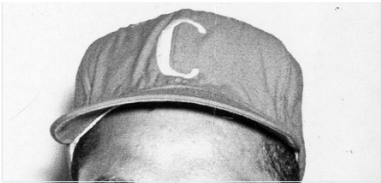

Photo shared by Julio Navarro by the historian Jorge Colón-Delgado on his Twitter account.

Jorge Colon-Delgado
@JColonDelgado

En respuesta a @JColonDelgado
De por vida, ocupa el 3er lugar en K's (994) y ERA (2.94); 4to en blanqueadas (19); 5to en entradas lanzadas (1623); y 6to en victorias (98). 3ro en temporadas jugadas con 22 (empatado con Juan Pizarro, Juan J. Benítez, Miguel Alicea y Héctor Valle). ¡Que descanse en paz!

22:41 - 24 ene. 2018

65

See 1 comments

TAGS: Vieques Big leagues Atlanta Braves Detroit Tigers Angels of Los Angeles

☆ Save

We recommend you

SPORTS
Caguas is reinforced with the lefty of the Giants, Giovanni Soto

SPORTS
Guerrero will enter the Hall of Fame with the cap of the Angels

SPORTS
The Criollos start with a victory at the start of the final series

SPORTS
The Indians' offensive never exploded