12 grandchildren.

A native of Rowan County, Dr. Fesperman was graduated from Catawba College and Central Theological Seminary. He held an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Catawba.

He served pastorates in Star- town, Greensboro and in Hagerstown, Md., before coming to Burlington in 1945.

While in Burlington he served as president of the local Kiwanis Club and president of the Burlington Ministerial Association. He also served as president of Community Council and was on the board of the Salvation Army.

During his active years he served on the board of trustees at Hood College, Catawba College, Lancaster Theological Seminary and the Homewood Church Home, all affiliated with the Evangelical and Reformed denomination. He also served on the denomination's Commission of Higher Education. among numerous assignments with the denomination through the years.

After his retirement in 1963 when he and Mrs. Fesperman moved to their home in Faith, he supplied pastorates often within this general area.
