

arrest

4 December 2016 21:57

SPORTS

Hiroshi Arakawa, the batting coach of baseball legend Sadaharu Oh at the Yomiuri Giants in the 1960s famous for equipping him his flamingo stance, died Sunday of cardiac arrest at a hospital in Tokyo. He was 86.

Arakawa joined the Mainichi Orions in 1953 and played nine years as an outfielder, batting .251 with 503 hits, 16 home runs and 172 RBIs.

MORE - SPORTS

Tennis: Herbert-Mahut pair complete Davis Cup win for France over Japan
(/news/2017/02/04/99016)

4 Feb 2017

Baseball: Otani rues missing WBC with Japan
(/news/2017/02/04/99014)

4 Feb 2017

Golf: Matsuyama stays stroke back at Phoenix Open
(/news/2017/02/04/99011)

4 Feb 2017

Olympics: 2020 organizers eyeing Fukushima baseball stadium upgrade
(/news/2017/02/03/98962)

▲ PREV

NEXT ▼