DECIDE LINE-UP FOR BALL TEAM

There has been some talk of securing Parke Wilson for a backstop, and the directors admit that there may be something doing in that line, but if not the work will fail on Hackett and young Oswaid. The latter, it will be remembered, was given a trial at the beginning of last season, but it is started that he was not given a fair chance, as he did not have the possibility of making the team held out to him and was not given the proper encouragement to develop the talent he possessed.

"I think Oswald has the making of a good catcher," said Manager Van Haltren, in discussing his case. "He is fast on his feet, bats well, is a good backstop and an excellent thrower. I think circumstances more than anything else have kept him back thus far. He ought to develop into a valuable man for us this year."

"hands off" sign when the time comes, Manager Van Haltren is very hopeful for a successful season this year and believes the team will be in much better shape than it was last season Sald he: "We are negotiating with a first baseman now who, I think, will be defer. I have promised him not to first baseman now who, I think, will be a daisy. I have promised him not to mention his name until the matter was definitely arranged, which is the only reason for not giving it out, as the fellow is living in this State, not very far from here, and did not play in this league or in the East last year.

Shortstop—Francks.

Center field—Van Halt—

Such is to be the line-up of the Oakland baseball team for 1906, as far as now decided. Of course the final team may be slightly different from that named, but the prosent plans of the directors of the local club contemplate the use of the men in question.

The only possible changes will be behind the bat, in the pitchor's box and at second base. The rest of the line-up is practically settled. APPLICATIONS IN.

TWO FIGHTS INSIDE OF TEN DAYS FOR KID BELL

Two members of the Central Athletic Club have hied themselves to Bakersfield where they are to fight the good fight of the roped arena March 1. These are Kid Benson who is to meet Kid Bell in a tenround main event, and Ed Case one of the shiftlest boxers the amateur ranks have seen for some time. Case is to box Kid Lewis six rounds before the Bakersfield Athletic Club under the direction of Ed Costl.

Lee Martin, another of the Central Club boys, will leave shortly to take part in the big Bakersfield boxing bouts and is to be pitted against Rid Powers.

Bell has his hands full just now and his friends believe that he is taking on too much to go after Benson so soon after his bout with Abe Label, which takes place before the West Cakland Athletic Club temorrow night. The colored lad is in fine fettle, however, and will without and fast.
