

Ex-Major Leaguer Commits Suicide

MOORESVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Noel E. (Red) Casbier, 43, Lenoir insurance agent and a former minor league baseball player and manager, committeed suicide here Thursday.

Iredell County Coroner Marvin Reymer ruled Casbier died of a self-inflicted wound from a 20gauge single barrel shotgun.

Casbier's body was found in the tront seat of his car by the manager of a motor company shortly after the car was towed in with motor trouble.

Casbier managed the old Lenoir Red Sox, Mount Airy and Gastonia, all Class D teams.

He also played for Birmingham in the Class AA Southern Assn. Hartford of the Class A Eastern League, Helena of the Class C Cotton States League, and Morganton.

Survivors include his widow and daughter.

Noel Casbier obit

Clipped By:

timcopeland Sun, Dec 17, 2017

